

General Education Committee Report

October 9th, 2018

1. Today is the deadline for Foundations proposals, and we have received many proposals. The General Education Committee will be working hard this next week to review these proposals and move them forward in the curriculum process.
2. We have already had three FYS workshops with 30 faculty and staff attending. Faculty and staff have shared some really great ideas for FYS classes. The next workshop is this Thursday at noon in ITC 211. Remember we have one each week, and the full schedule is on www.wou.edu/gened. Please reach out to Shaun Huston with any FYS questions.
3. Proposals for Exploring Knowledge courses will need to be to the General Education Committee (and in the case of new or extensively modified courses the Curriculum Committee as well) by November 13, 2018. Remember that Erin Baumgartner and I are happy to help in this process, so please do reach out with any questions. Erin is also available to attend Division and Department meetings.
