Interim Provost Winningham

Dean of Library and Academic Innovation

The Dean of Library and Academic Innovation Search Committee has been convened and the search is well underway. I want to thank the search committee for their willingness to help with this important search. I believe their first meeting is today (Jan. 8th) and review of applications could be begin as soon as next week.

Dr. Nicole Stokes-DuPass

On Friday, February 1, Dr. Nicole Stokes-DuPass will be coming to WOU to conduct an all-day interactive workshop on diversity, equity and inclusion targeted toward campus faculty leadership. We can have up to 50 participants and we are encouraging the participation of all deans, division chairs, department heads, and other faculty members in leadership or decision-making roles. The workshop will take place on campus (location TBA) from 9:30 to 3:00 with a one-hour lunch break (morning continental breakfast and lunch will be provided). Dr. Stokes-DuPass holds a Ph.D. in sociology from the University of Massachusetts-Amherst. She currently serves as Associate Vice-President for Institutional Effectiveness and Diversity at Holy Family University in Philadelphia. She uses an interactive case-study approach to provide campus leaders with tools for building an inclusive campus culture, by increasing awareness of unconscious bias, strengthening interpersonal and inter-group coalition building skills, and fostering a growth mindset and increased skills in cultural competence.
